

Modern slavery and human trafficking statement

F.J.Wilson Ltd is absolutely committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in its activities. To this end, the Company will ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of goods and services to the Company. This statement sets out our company's actions to understand all potential modern slavery risks related to our business.

In accordance with guidance for smaller businesses such as ourselves contained in Transparency in supply chains: a practical guide, we recognise the importance of openness and transparency in recruitment practices, policies and procedures in relation to modern slavery and of taking steps that are consistent and proportionate with our sector, size and operational reach.

The Company encourages all its workers, customers and other business partners to report any concerns related to the activities of the organisation.

The Company Directors take responsibility for implementing this statement and its objectives.

Our business and structure

Established in 2009, F.J.Wilson Ltd is a UK-based employment agency and employment business that provides talent services to professional membership organisations, awarding bodies, regulators, learning providers and charities.

Our talent acquisition services for our clients include i) the supply of candidates for permanent and fixed term contract roles and ii) the supply of contract resource (PAYE temporary workers).

We also provide coaching services.

The trading styles of F.J.Wilson Ltd are 'FJWilson', 'FJWTS' and 'FJWilson Talent Services'. We have no subsidiary companies.

F.J.Wilson Ltd employs a distributed workforce model: our employees are home-based and are connected by IT infrastructure. All are UK-based. Our registered office is in Suffolk, England.

Our supply chains

Our supply chains include IT services, accountancy and payroll services, background check provider, HR consultancy and administration, training providers, venue suppliers and communications services. We have reviewed the risks that these supply chains can present and whilst we consider our exposure to modern slavery to be limited, we expect our suppliers to demonstrate a zero-tolerance approach to exploitation.

To this end, all new contracts and those renewing will include a clause requiring that our suppliers, and their subcontractors, comply with the Act, and include F.J. Wilson's right to terminate in the instance of any breach of this obligation.

Company employees

Our employees are all provided with a written contract of employment and undertake training in relation to our ethical standards.

The Company's documentation makes clear to employees the actions and behaviour expected of them when representing the organisation. The organisation strives to maintain the highest standards of employee conduct and ethical behaviour. Relevant policies and procedures include: Code of Conduct; Anti-bribery Policy; Grievance Procedure; Whistleblowing Policy. Each employee has a personal responsibility to read the policies and procedures as well as to ensure that they fully understand our obligations and the consequences associated with any breach of those obligations.

Adequate resources will be provided (including training as necessary) to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place within the Company.

Candidates

FJWilson staff

When recruiting to our own internal staff vacancies we require evidence of the candidate's ability to work legally in the UK. We partner with a background check provider to conduct this check.

Permanent and fixed-term vacancies

In providing our talent services, we are not the 'employer' for the purposes of the Asylum and Immigration Act 1996, since we introduce candidates to clients for direct employment with our clients. We verify with the candidate verbally their right to work in the UK. The client is then responsible for carrying out their own ID checks for immigration, as part of their responsibility for checking that the candidate satisfies all requirements, qualifications or permission required by law, before a candidate starts work.

PAYE temporary workers

We require evidence of the PAYE temporary worker's ability to work legally in the UK, and proof of their address in the UK. We partner with a background check provider to conduct this check.

Approval

This statement has been approved by the Company's Managing Director who will review and update it as necessary on an annual basis.
